Court of General Sessions.

Court of General Sessions.

Before Judge McCunn.

The Court was wholly occupied today with the trial of Verona, a Cuban, on an indictment of forgery in the third degree, which was on trial for the fourth trial of Verons, a Cuban, on an indictment of forgery in the third degree, which was on trial for the fourth day. Judge McCunn declining to dismise the case upon technical grounds, on motion of counsel for the defence; Mr. Condert opened the case for defence, whereupon several letters from Havana were offered a evidence, but ruled out by the Court. The defence sealled the character of the two principal witnesses for the prosecution, Don Pedrohits and Isadore Carhanell, both by argument and testimony. The one was represented as a defaulter, as having absonded from Cuba, and leaving a defait behind him of thousands of dollars belonging to Her Majesty, the Queen of Spain, and the other was denounced as a regue and criminal of the blackest dye, which denunciations were made in open court, not only for the edification of the public, but also for the very moustached and chivalrous Castilians concerned, who were themselves present in court. The defence contended that this was a trumped up charge, and the story told by the Dons was false and untrue from beginning to end. Mr. Albert Horn, of this city, was called as a witness among others, to testify to certain letters and papers, and also to give the above named gentlemen a bad character. From a rigid cross-examination conducted by Mr. Anthon, some queer things were elicited. It appeared that the witness owned the city of Norfolk, a slave vessel, which was found abandoned at sea, with a carge of slaves on board in a helpless and perishing condition. The witness tated that previous to that he had sent the vessel to St. Thomas for sale, where it was sold accordingly, and that he had nothing whatever to do with it when thus found.

FINANCIAL, &c.

NEW YORK, Friday, Jan. 18. The Stock market was very lively this morning at a good advance in prices, some descriptions being 3 and 4 per cent higher than yesterday. The great intelligence is the chief stimulus of the market. Illinois Central, as an exception, was dull, falling 6 per cent, from yesterday's quotations. There was nothing done in Government bonds. For fives of 1374, 95 was bid, and the 12 per cent. Treasury notes were sold at 2 ¼ a 2 ¼ per cent. premium. Railroad bonds were firm, with a moderate business.
